Checkpoint 1 Week 5 - Marc 19-03-2024 🔒

Mulder, Brett B.M.P. a month ago

Today I showed the things I have made for my individual project. I have made 2 OpenAI chatbots talking to each other for a while to see what they are going to talk about. Marc found it very interesting about the conversations. But for the next step I have to focus on making those bots curious, so intercept whenever they want if this is related to the bot's expertise.

Reno and I showed our project research plan. The questions were not very clear and needs to be changed. So for the next step we need to create better research questions with context based.

For the group project, it was a good first demo because it it a prototype to make bots collaborate with each other. It is still hardcoded but this will be the next challenge for the next sprint.

Today we discussed about the portfolio. About how I need to set it up in the Portfolio tool. First I had a reading guide for each learning Outcome. But this needed to change to a overall reading guide for all learning outcomes.

Also I asked about the researches I have made. This were all bob the builder researches because I needed to get some knowledge about certain topics. Those can't be delivered as DOT researches bus they still add to the professional skills.

Tulin and I discussed my first portfolio. It was in a good structure. We discussed the first 2 learning outcomes, professional standards and personal leadership. For my personal reflection I both put them on Beginning, because I was the Scrum master for sprint 0 en 1. But I did not have applied the DOT framework in an actual research.

For the next sprint:

- Add a Future plan
- Add peer reviews for demos
- Start applying DOT framework

Checkpoint 5 Week 8 - Marc 11-04-2024

Today Marc and I talked about how it is going and what the next steps are. Also what I think about the collaboration in the group project. I think the collaboration in the group is going well and that we have all our own tasks. We got a clear view now about where we want to go this semester.

For my individual, I think it is going well, I mainly focused on setting up the frontend this sprint, but I am going to give that to another next sprint because I want to work on the backend as well. This is also because of the learning outcomes and that I have to achieve those as wel.
